Personal Prayer

By: Ruth Rigbi

The prayer that speaks to me most is "Letaken Olam Bemalchut Shaddai" in the Alenu Leshabeach .

Tikkun Olam is a glorious ideal. How can we contribute to it by teaching and by example?

We can begin at home, with love:

"Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself".

This is the message that we can try to pass on to our children, grandchildren and pupils: See every human being, even the other, as your neighbor, your fellow. Be sensitive to the needs of your fellows: help them with charity and good deeds, and fight actively for social justice , Do not stand idly by.

From man and his fellows to man and his environment. Our sages said "God and Man are Partners in the Work of Creation". The creation of our world is not finished. It is still going on. We as partners can influence the process for good or for ill.

May we influence it for good. Amen.
